CAUSE

On October 23, 2007, Ralph Perkins submitted to a polygraph examination as part of his sex offender therapy. The test results reflect signs of deception to relevant questions concerning the viewing pornographic materials by Mr. Perkins to include, child pornography by computer or video. The undersigned officer personally contacted Mr. Perkins at his residence on October 25, 2007, at which time concerns regarding the polygraph examination were discussed. At that time, Mr. Perkins was directed to get rid of any movies that were in his possession that contained any type of nudity. He was further directed not to use the Internet.

On November 20, 2007, the undersigned officer met with Mr. Perkins and his sex offender therapist. Concerns regarding the polygraph examination were discussed, as well as, the defendant's current progress. It was determined that additional time beyond his current expiration date is needed to address his issues in therapy. Subsequently, Mr. Perkins has agreed to a 1-year extension of supervised release, and has signed the attached waiver of hearing indicating so.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
